

Jeff Palm

Chief Information Officer

Background

With more than 30 years of experience in technology – including the last 20 in the financial services industry – Palm has broad knowledge across a wide range of topic areas including application development, infrastructure, architecture, and strategy.

Experience

- Over nine years with Allianz Life, focusing on helping the business to take advantage of varied technology capabilities for competitive advantage and operational efficiencies.
- Oversees a technology team focused on strategic direction and implementation of various solutions and capabilities for the business.
- Featured speaker at numerous industry events, and published in several technology magazines.

Education, certifications, and memberships

- B.S. in Computer Science and Mathematics from the University of Illinois

Featured in

CIOReview, Insurance CIO Outlook, Insurance & Technology

FOCUSED ON

- Emerging technology strategies
- Managerial experience with large, global organizations
- Offshoring/outsourcing best practices
- Thought leadership in technology and business capabilities

